The Guide is a 1958 novel written in English by the Indian author R. K. Narayan. Like most of his works the novel is based on Malgudi, the fictional town in South India. The novel describes the transformation of the protagonist, Raju, from a tour guide to a spiritual guide and then one of the greatest holy men of India.

~~The Guide - Wikipedia~~

Narayan's The Guide depicts modernization overtaking protagonist-narrator Raju 's hometown of Malgudi in southern India during the early twentieth century. Not only are new technologies associated with industrialization—such as the railroad —introduced during this period, but social relations are also upended as hierarchies of caste and gender are re-negotiated.

Raju thought about his past life as a tourist guide. He lived in a small house opposite to Malgudi Railway Station. His father had a small shop and all day he sat there selling peppermint, fruit, tobacco, betel leaf, parched gram, and whatever else the wayfarers on the Trunk Road demanded. It was known as the 'hut-shop'.
