historical usage of federal. English federal comes from the Latin noun foedus (stem foeder-) “a formal agreement between states, peoples, or private persons, a league, treaty (of alliance or peace), a marriage compact.”. Foedus is related to the Latin verb f\u00f2dere “to trust, trust in, have confidence in,” the adjective f\u00f2dus “faithful loyal” (Abraham Lincoln owned a dog named Fido), and the noun fid\u00ebs “trust, state of being trusted.”.

Suster's Historical Dictionary of the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia in the English-speaking world has long been overdue. Since the end of the Cold War, the public was satiated with the literature on ethnic and regional conflict. This literature, with few exceptions, lacked the precision and depth required for serious social research.
