The governess was more touched than she could say at Ada's words. But she was still puzzled. "But you have never been eager for it, even so. ..." "Up you go, Ada. Time to inspect the damage," Sir Henry said. "If that is Miss Stevens there, you may rise for inspection too." The ladies hesitated. "Father, could we please have a moment. I am afraid ...

~~The Girl and the Governess — Newsyay~~

If a particular governess was young and attractive, the lady of the house might well perceive a potential threat to her marriage, and enforce the governess's social exclusion more rigorously. As a result of these various restrictions, the lifestyle of the typical Victorian governess was often one of social isolation and solitude, without the opportunity to make friends.
